Golf Operations will enter all players for the qualifying round after entries close. Players will be drawn with similar handicapped players, with changes not permitted without Golf Operations consent.

Your grade will be determined on your qualifying round day.

In the qualifying round you will be drawn in the grade you are eligible for by Golf operations after entries close.

To be eligible to qualify for any of the events, members must have a minimum of 20 legitimate scorecard entries in their Golf Link record and their handicap must not be designated as "Provisional". The full Club policy on Honour Board eligibility and participation can be viewed on the IGC website (click here to view).

Withdrawals from match play

Once the match play draw has been determined it is not expected there will be any withdrawals. However, it can happen that a member who has qualified is unable to play for health, injury or other legitimate/acceptable reasons.

The following protocols will apply in the event of a withdrawal:

Withdrawal before 1st round of match play

If a player who qualified for the matchplay withdraws before the first round of match play, Golf Operations will take reasonable steps to contact the best-ranked reserve and offer that person the vacated spot without otherwise adjusting the draws.

The first person offered who confirms acceptance will be given the spot.

As there will be no adjustment of the draw, the person ranked 9th 10th or 11th could end up filling the #1 seed position in the primary event for that grade.

Withdrawal after 1st round of match play

The best-ranked loser from the just-completed round of that match play draw will be offered the spot.

Golf Operations will take reasonable steps to contact the best-ranked loser and offer that person the vacated spot. The first person offered who confirms acceptance will be given the spot.

This means that someone who moves to the next round could end up playing the person they defeated in a previous round.
